

INTERIOR
DESIGN

September 10, 2025

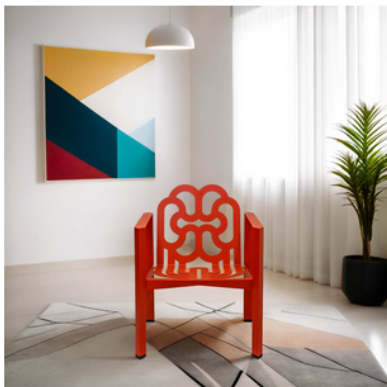

Words: Stephen Treffinger

Uncover The 15 Top Picks From Maison&Objet September 2025

Last week, thousands of people trekked to the Paris Nord Villepinte exhibition center to attend Maison&Objet 2025. Held from Sept. 4–8, the show revealed the first iteration of its new concept, with an emphasis on both emerging designers and new ways to fuse the traditional and the innovative. Attendees also raced around town for Paris Design Week. Interior Design was there for it all—continue reading for our highlights from this year’s fall showings.

UNMISSABLE HIGHLIGHTS FROM MAISON&OBJET SEPTEMBER 2025

Maison Arpelli

Photography courtesy of Maison Arpelli.

Photography courtesy of Maison Arpelli.

Taking the often blocky metal chair—and using Art Deco as an influence—these elevated seats (Antonin, left, and Louis) from Maison Arpelli have a little something extra, plus they’re extremely comfortable due to an extensive testing process!

<https://interiordesign.net/designwire/maison-objet-fall-2025-highlights>